Hi Clare,

I hope all is well.

We have our first corporate client for our brand new program Squared Online FAST LANE! We would like to start an international cohort for BOSCH in English in September.

For this reason we need to shoot 3-4 short videos for the campus and we need you as a native speaker. Would you be willing to travel to Hamburg (I hope you are still based in Bremen) and film these videos with the help of our content creator, who will take care of the set up and the tech in our office. Your tasks would be to read a final text off a teleprompter and speak in the camera.

We would cover all travel expenses and would offer you your regular hourly fee, if that's ok?

We are looking at mid/late June.

The best project manager in the world is supporting the development and roll out of FAST LANE, so I'd also like to take the opportunity to introduce you to Felix (in CC). He would coordinate everything else.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,
